

Exhibit 25

Due to no response I am guessing the issue isn't resolved and I will be stuck with a FAKLE pair of sneakers even though I paid stockx to verify authenticity before receiving. I understand why Nike is upset now

Hey David,

I appreciate you contacting us.

I hope all is well with you and your family! Due to no response, I am going to go ahead and close this inquiry as we can only keep them open for a couple of days after your last response.

However, when you reach back out someone will be here to help again.

Please reach back out with the requested information and we'll pick up where we left off.

Best regards,

Nicole
